Buffaloes Will Leave For New York City

Banquet Given Team and Their Dates Tuesday by Citizens and Faculty

The Buffalo basketball team will leave Saturday morning at 5 o'clock for New York City to play in the National Metropolitan Intercollegiate Tournament in Madison Square Garden. Coach Al Baggett will take all members of the squad composed of Captain Frank Stockman, Price Brookfield, Douglas Groom, Charles Halbert, Paul House, Ledru Jacobs, Charles Johnson, Clark Johnson, Jack Maddox, Olin Reed, Leo Steinkoenig, William Stockman, Norman Trimble, Manager Ralph Davis. Dr. D. A. Shirley and Mayor C. H. Jarrett plan to accompany the team.

Games will be played on March 17, 19, 23, and 25.

In recognition of the fine record of this season, 28 games won out of 30 played, 150 local citizens and members of the faculty attended a banquet Tuesday night at Cousins Hall. Dr. D. A. Shirley was toastmaster.

Members of the Freshman squad were introduced by Cletus Kuehler, coach of the squad. This team won the Amarillo tournament.

Dr. J. A. Hill expressed his great appreciation of the fine work of the team this year in winning the Border Conference championship and the Oklahoma City tournament. Trophies for the championship of these two tournaments were presented to Dr. Hill by Mr. Shirley.

Mr. Hill praised the conduct of the men while on their trips, and stated that he had received letters highly complimenting the gentlemanly actions of the Buffs wherever they went. He was gratified that the wide publicity had not spoiled the Buffs, as it has been the case of other teams.

Coach Al Baggett reviewed the season, and highly praised the boys for their fine sportsmanship and co-operation. The team had played under all kinds of conditions and on all kinds of floors, but they always came through in fine shape.

John McCarty of the Globe-News paid high tribute to the men. "West Texas State is now firmly established as the basketball capitol of the world and all must do their part to keep it on top," stated Mr. McCarty.

Dates of the Buffs led in singing the fight song of the team. Miss Vesta O'Dell played piano solos.

Scrap Iron Is Needed at Once

Farmers Urged To Sell Iron Now: Plans Made to Handle Iron Here by J. B. Hand

Farmers of Randall county are hauling scrap iron to help scrap the Japs. Hundreds of tons have been marketed in Amarillo, Tulia and other places. Arrangements have been made for a temporary buying station at Canyon. J. B. Hand, a farm boy who will be going to the army later this year, will buy scrap iron every Friday and Saturday. D. Mack Stewart, who operates the feed store south of the Consumers Service Station, has agreed to do the weighing free of charge and J. A. Guthrie has donated the use of a vacant lot across from the feed store for storing the small lots awaiting shipment or hauling to market.

All those who do not have sufficient scrap iron to justify hauling to the larger markets are urged to bring it to the Stewart Feed Store, formerly known as Gillham's Feed Store, where it will be weighed and records kept of the amount.

If you want a bid on a particular lot before unloading you should bring it in on Friday or Saturday. The buyer will be on hand on these two days each week. Other days he will go out to any farm where the owner wants to sell scrap iron on the farm rather than do his own processing and hauling. Farmers who do not already have a market for scrap iron are urged to contact J. B. Hand or leave word at the Thompson Hardware Company or the County Agent's office. Scrap iron is badly needed to speed up our output of steel for guns, tanks, planes and ships for our fighting forces, as well as, farm machinery for the food front.

The Randall County War Board is very anxious that the present accumulation of scrap be cleaned up during March and April. A pile of scrap will blast a Jap provided the scrap gets into the scrap by going first to the steel mills.

Scrap iron is like a man. It's no good just laying around.

Billy Thurmond was awarded 4th place on his baby beef in the Junior division of the calf show. The show calves will be sold in the auction ring at the show Friday.

Windbreaks Be Set Two Farms

Albert Byars and E. A. Michael Home to Benefit by Government Plantings

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Michael and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Byars have been designated by the United States Southern Great Plains Field Station at Woodward, Okla., to receive complete nursery stocks for windbreaks at their respective farm homes. The Woodward experiment station is under the direct supervision of E. W. Johnson, associate Silviculturist.

The Michael windbreak will be 400 feet long with the inside row being made up of red cedars and pine; second row of Chinese elms; third row of smooth honey locust; and fourth or outside row of tam rix and flowering willow. Along with the planting of the wind break 10 shade trees, 10 currant bushes and 50 shrubs with hedges of privit and spirea will be included.

The Byars windbreak will be 350 feet long. It is to be made up of red cedar and single seed juniper and pine for the inside row; smooth honey locust in the second row; with dessert willow and Kashgar tamarix making up the third row. 25 shrubs will also be furnished with this.

Both Mrs. Michael and Mrs. Byars have been yard demonstrators in their home demonstration work when windbreaks were studied at lenghth.

It is expected that the two families will go after the trees and shrubbery at an early date as both have the sites ready for the planting.

These are the first two projects of windbreak planting to be started in this county, but it is probable that two such families will be designated each year for these projects.

The placing of these is through the cooperation and assistance of Miss Frances Wilroy, county home agent.

Air Raid Plans Complete

Birthday For Canyon News

With this issue The Canyon News opens another volume, entering its forty-seventh year.

Mrs. W. R. Morgan founded The Stayer in 1896, the name later being changed to The News by its second publisher, Geo. A. Brandon. The first News was called the Canyon City News; the name was later changed to the Randall County News; another change remodeled the name into The Canyon News. Yet throughout the years it has always remained THE newspaper of Randall County.

During its forty-six years, this newspaper has been under the management of only five different people, which is indeed quite a record for a county newspaper forty-six years oldl. The first twelve years were divided equally between Mrs. Morgan and Mr. Brandon. After the sale of the newspaper in 1908 to the late C. O. Keiser, two newspaper men served as editor for a year each—R. A. Terrill and L. B. Christman. The present management took charge in 1910, and in July of this year will have served the Canyon News for 32 years.

From the small, crude beginning of 46 years ago, your newspaper has grown in proportion to the fine community which it has had the pleasure of representing. The physical plant of the News is recognized as being among the best in the state.

All members of The News staff are most grateful to the people of Randall county for their splendid co-operation throughout the years, and we are hopeful of being able to continue serving you for many, many, years to come.

Ration Cards to Be Distributed in Near Future

Supplies for the national registration under the rationing law are being received here. The date has not yet been set, but it is expected that notice of the date will be received within a few days.

In the meanwhile, State Rationing Administrator Mark McGee urges all families who have more sugar on hand than they will be allowed to keep should sell the surplus sugar back to the grocer from whom they bought it. Two pounds for each person in the family is all that may be retained. "This cannot be over-emphasized because the rationing booklets are not only sugar rationing booklets, but are general rationing booklets and may in the future be used for any number of things, such as hosiery, radios, bicycles," stated Mr. McGee.

School teachers will register all citizens on the day set apart. One person in each family must register members of the family and secure booklets on this day, according to instructions. Persons living in homes, but who are not members of the family, must register separately from members of the family.

Farmers To Attend Farm Bureau Meet In Amarillo Friday

A number of farmers from Randall county plan to attend the Panhandle District meeting of the Texas Farm Bureau Association at Amarillo tomorrow (Friday).

The Stewart store was moved to the Gillham location at 1701 Fifth Avenue, a block east of the former location. Stewart will continue to handle Red Chain products in addition to the stock of the Gillham store.

The Stewart Cash Feed and Seed Store was established here a little more than a year ago.

Mr. Gillham is now devoting his time to his farm near here.

485 Men Are Added To Military Rolls

Seven Men Leave Tomorrow and Two Called For March 21: Lottery Next Tuesday

The Randall County Selective Service Board numbered the registration cards Monday of the men who signed up on February 16 for military service. There were 485 new registrants in Randall county.

A national lottery will be held in Washington, D. C., on March 17. At that time order numbers will be drawn which will apply to men in every local board in the nation. The master list will probably not be received by the local board for a week or ten days after the national drawing. Order numbers cannot be applied to local men who registered until after the master list is received.

Seven men will be inducted into military service Friday. Men who have been notified for induction are:

Frank Frederick Addington.
William A. Patke.
Curtis Howard Robertson.
Harry Leo Inman.
Weldon Bailey.
Bill Nelson.
Clay Fritts.

A call has been received for two men to be inducted into military service on March 21.

Thomas Ralph Owens and Billy Polk Hall have volunteered for the navy from Randall county.

It is expected that another call will be received this week for men to take their physical examinations in Lubbock. According to new army regulations men who take these examinations will be inducted into military service immediately. Furloughs will probably be granted to men who request more time before entering the service.

New Sirens To Be Installed

All Wardens Are Active in Preparing Canyon For Any Emergency of the Future

Air wardens of Canyon met Friday night to complete the organization of the city. Another meeting was held Tuesday at which time special study was given to gas. Meetings will be continued until the wardens have received a minimum of 26 hours of instruction in various phases of air raid protection.

Sheriff M. E. Cantrell and Chief Air Warden C. W. Freed are highly pleased at the response of the men of Canyon. Every warden and block leader in Canyon attended the organization meeting Friday night. The district court room was nearly filled with men representing every block in Canyon.

A central control office has been established at the fire station. A large map of the city will show every building and give the names of the wardens in charge. The station has been completely blacked out so that wardens may work there and direct work in case of an air raid.

Two large sirens have been ordered for air raid warning. Until these sirens are installed, the air raid signal will be a continuous two-minute blast from the fire siren and whiteway lights will be blinked. It was found to be impractical to blink all of the lights of the city.

Several blocks in Canyon are having trial blackouts before a city-wide blackout is ordered.

Dr. Freed urges that every citizen make preparations at once to black out their homes and to provide living quarters under blackout conditions as outlined in the News last week.

Business houses are urged to make arrangements for turning out electric signs and store lights in case of an air alarm.

Sheriff M. E. Cantrell states that all citizens are cooperating to the fullest extent. "I hope that Canyon will never have an air raid, but we shall be ready for the emergency if we are so unfortunate as to be attacked by enemy planes," stated the Sheriff.

All towns in the nation were ordered to be organized by March 7, and excellent prograss has been made in Canyon during the past week.

"I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

The News had an editorial recently as to the importance of the local newspaper during the war. A business man came in to thank us for this information. He said that from now on he is going to buy all of his printing and supplies at home, although he has usually been very careful to do so in the past. The News does not ask for favors, but only asks for a chance to serve business firms and local people. We are delighted to carry all of the information regarding war activities in this county. We are glad to devote all of the time necessary to keep these activities going. But it makes us pretty sore to see some public officials and some business firms pay outside salesmen MORE MONEY for the same goods which we have for sale or which we produce or can secure. Several salesmen work Canyon regularly, but not a single one of them ever does a single thing in the way of community service; never pay taxes here; never make any contribution to local affairs; or spend any money in Canyon. After all, shouldn't the local firm have the right to your consideration?

Have you ever written a letter to the President of the United States? Have you ever written letters to Congressmen and Senators? Even if you have written letters in the past, or if you have never written letters, do so now! Tell them for God's sake to do something before we lose this war here in 1942! Production of war machines lags; plants are not working full time; our allies are losing because we are not producing machines to stop the Axis. All of this is because the administration refuses to change the silly "Social Security" laws to conform with war demands. If we should lose the war, American labor will be in slavery to the dictators, and then what shall we gain by holding to peace time standards when war time necessities demands that men work more than 40 hours per week? Write your letters today and express your feelings in the matter.

It is a shame that the peddler ordinance of Canyon was killed by the Court of Criminal Appeals. However, just who is to blame for this peddler racket? No one, except those who fall for the peddlers. There are a half dozen places in Canyon where magazine subscriptions are taken, yet a gang of peddlers can work Canyon for one day and high pressure more people into subscribing for magazines which they do not want, than all of the legitimate home dealers will sell in a year. If you do not want to be bothered with peddlers, then why continue patronizing them? So long as they can high pressure people into sales, just so long will they continue pestering you.

Counties and schools of Texas are going to receive a financial jolt as a result of the war. Highway bond issues are assumed upon the size of the gasoline tax. In like manner schools are supported by a state apportionment based upon the gasoline tax. This tax is materially reduced and will be reduced more until cars are allowed to operate again. Furthermore, automobile licenses will be greatly reduced as cars wear out. Wise county and school officials are taking these facts into consideration as they plan for the coming year. They will have less to spend, therefore, commitments must be reduced.

Randall county has been called upon to send the first married men into military service. This is one of the very few counties which has been able to leave married men at home. This group will be the vanguard of scores of other married men who will be called into military service. Most men are willing to take their turns and do not complain when their number is called up. However, a few always feel that the other man should be called while they are allowed to stay at home. This is war, and this country is worth saving! If we do not save the nation, then there will be nothing worthwhile to live for.

Canyon has a full and complete air raid organization, with more than 100 citizens devoting their time to organizing in order to be prepared. This is not foolishness on the part of the leaders, or of the government in demanding that each community get ready. It is hoped that Canyon never has an air raid. It is hoped that the organization shall never be called into action. But unless the Japs are stopped dead still before many months, scores of towns in America will be bombed. Wouldn't you rather be ready than to sit smugly by and say, "It Can't Happen Here?"

Down in Hale county the candidates have met and pledged themselves not to attend pie suppers this year. With strict regulations on tires, tubes, cars and sugar, the candidates do not feel like driving several hundred extra miles every month to meet a handful of voters who attend these affairs. Since Randall county has no county-wide contests so far, such an agreement will likely not be necessary. However, citizens of the county should take these facts into consideration and abolish these community pie supper affairs.

When the CCC camps were at Palo Duro Park the last army officer remarked that it would be a shame for the buildings to be wrecked and the lumber wasted as those barracks could be utilized some day. Today CCC camps over the nation are being used as training centers. All camps which remain in the Panhandle will soon house soldiers who are in training. Unfortunately the camp at Palo Duro and the ones at Hereford and north of Amarillo were wrecked and thereby the government is deprived of needed housing facilities.

Axis propagandists have wonderful allies in the United States. Thousands of persons say every day: "Why haven't the English done something?" Such foolish statements should be flung back in the faces of such queries, "Why didn't we profit by the invasions of the Axis?" And again, "Where would we be today had not England held off the Axis while we were trying to make up our minds whether to put in a day's work, or just continue on the 40-hour basis?"

Typewriter dealers received the hardest jolt of all by the recent government regulations. Automobile and tire dealers were allowed to continue selling and renting used products. The government has stopped the sale and rent of used typewriters. Unless the government intends gathering up these machines, then the News has 15 good used typewriters which will sit idly on our shelves while scores of persons will be forced to do without them.

"Work or else" threats have been made by Selective Service Boards in centers where defense jobs are being held up by strikes. Thousands of young men have rushed to defense jobs in preference to serving in the army and navy. No one can object to that so long as these men really work and are of value to their country. But when they refuse to work they should be slapped right back into line for military service.

Rumors persist that Former Governor Dan Moody will run against Senator O'Daniel. For a long while it was rumored that Judge James V. Allred would run, but now it seems that Moody will have the field to himself against the flour salesman. Moody is a hard campaigner and knows all of the political tricks. Whether or not he will make a serious threat is still questionable.

It required 300 carloads of paper to print up the sugar rationing books and supplies. It was the largest printing job ever produced in the United States. The American people are out millions of dollars in this deal, and therefore every person should patriotically do his part in observing the rules and regulations in order that the government get value received.

The Japs continue their victorious march. The only thing hopeful is that the Japs are not getting valuable stores which they anticipated, and they are extending their lines so as to become vulnerable—that is, vulnerable when our government allows our workmen to produce ships and machines enough to start an offensive.

Gardening time is about here, and folks have already started phoning the News that chickens are running at large. There is absolutely only one way to force people to keep their chickens at home: continue having chicken for dinner as long as your neighbor allows his flock to run at large.

The rubber situation has been a blessing to dealers who had large stocks of used itres and tubes. These are now bringing almost new prices. Seemingly the public has not realized that Uncle Sam means business when he says that there is no more rubber available.

Attorney General Gerald C. Mann has announced as a candidate for a third term. This clears the political situation, and Mann will probably be re-elected without opposition. General Mann has made a wonderful record in public office and deserves to continue.

The Republicans have been rebuffed for the movement to bring General MacArthur back to run for President in 1944. They have found that MacArthur is more interested in fighting the enemies of Democracy than in fighting his Commander-in-Chief.

Since 1918 the American Legion has preached, "Be Prepared." Yet in spite of the lesson we should have gained from the conquests of Japan, Italy and Germany, the United States is far from being prepared.

Larry Mills of Dallas has announced as a candidate for State Treasurer. His platform is "Roosevelt for a 4th Term." Now just how does a 4th term for the President qualify a man to be treasurer of Texas?

Tire Shortage Causes Museum Visitor Decrease

The states were Texas, Ohio, Wisconsin, Oklahoma, Washington, Iowa, California, Nebraska, New Mexico, Montana, Louisiana, Michigan, Missouri, Colorado, Illinois, Oregon, Kansas, Alabama, Indiana, New Jersey, New York, and North Dakota.

Cato Merchant Receives Naval Air Corps Wings

Lewis Cato Merchant, former student, received his commission in the U. S. Naval Air Corps, Feb. 27, at Corpus Christi.

Cato enlisted in this naval branch April 5, 1941 and was appointed a cadet on June 26. He received his B. S. degree here, where he was a member of Epsilon Beta fraternity.

During the advanced training stage at Corpus Christi, he specialized in flying the Navy's huge patrol bombers.

The final stage in a cadet's career at the Navy's Corpus Christi "University of the Air," is advanced squadron training in which the Navy decides what type of plane the cadet is best suited to fly and spends the rest of his efforts in making him a specialist in one of three fields: patrol planes, scout and observation seaplanes, or carrier-based fighters and dive bombers.

Graduates of the patrol boat squadrons are usually sent directly to the fleet upon receiving their wings and diplomas.

The world goes up and the world goes down
And the sunshine follows the rain;
And yesterday's sneer and yesterday's frown
Can never come over again.

"LOTS OF PEOPLE make a big mistake in figuring the cost of house paint. They look at its price per gallon. But that's all wrong. What they really pay for is coverage per gallon. That's why I figure it's just common sense to use Lowe Brothers High Standard House Paint. It's definitely a quality paint and it covers solidly more square feet of surface, so it spreads evenly and easily, cuts down the labor and cost, lengthens the time between repainting. It just naturally goes farther and lasts longer to save money all the way."

Cemetery Association Discusses Duties of Caretaker Saturday

Duties of the caretaker and improvements that are being made were discussed at the meeting of the Dreamland Cemetery Association Saturday afternoon in Thompson Club Room.

The caretaker is not kept on regular duty during the winter, but in the spring he will be put on full time to keep the grass and prevent weeds from growing in the walks and driveways. He waters all evergreens during the entire year and fills in the graves that sink. But all special work on the lots must be done by the individual and each owner is responsible for the weeds on his lot.

Through the co-operation of the county, the central drive will be caliched soon.

In order to keep the cemetery in good condition, it may be necessary to hire an additional man this spring and summer. Any who wish to contribute to this fund may see Mrs. R. E. Ball, secretary of the association.

Donations have recently been made by Sternenberg Lumber Company, Thompson Hardware Company, Mrs. R. O. Allison, and the City of Canyon.

300 Baptist Students Expected To Attend

Supreme Allegiance to Christ Is Theme of Program

The Baptist students of West Texas State College will be hosts to the Baptist Student Union Plains Conference March 20-21. This is an annual meeting of the Baptist students of this section of the state. The place of the meeting is changed each year alternating between the colleges included in the conference. This year, the students of Texas Tech., Wayland college, Hardin-Simmons and perhaps one or two other colleges that have been invited to visit, will come to Canyon by train, by automobile, and on special buses to be the guests of the Baptist students here.

Unfortunately, some of the Teachers' meetings of the Panhandle have been scheduled to meet on the same week-end, but in spite of this, more than three hundred Baptist students are expected to attend the conference.

The program will be varied. The general theme for the conference is to be SUPREME ALLEGIANCE TO CHRIST, and the entire program will be built around this theme, but the program is planned to be both informational and inspirational. There will be conferences for the campus leaders of B. S. U. work, and there will be conferences on timely subjects such as "The Christian and the war," "The Reality of God," "The Christian Sunday," "Supreme Allegiance in Life's Decisions," and many others. Inspirational messages around this theme will be given by some of the outstanding Baptist leaders of the state. Some of the subjects to be used are "Supreme Allegiance in My Devotional Life," "Supreme Allegiance on My Campus," "Supreme Allegiance After Graduation," "Supreme Allegiance in State and Worldwide Program," and others. The keynote message brought by Dr. W. R. White will be one of the outstanding features of the program. The subject of this address will be the same as the theme, "Supreme Allegiance to Christ."

The Baptist students at the college, the First Baptist Church where all the sessions will be held, and the city of Canyon are waiting with open arms for the coming of this group and the conference promises to be one of the best ever held.

Nix Thanked for Binoculars by Navy During War

W. F. Nix has received a letter from the Navy Department thanking him for a loan of binoculars which he recently sent to Senator Tom Connally, who turned them over to the navy.

Mr. Nix bought the glasses after World War I. They were used by a German officer, and Mr. Nix secured them from an American soldier who got them as a souvenir.

The letter states in part:

"You will receive a letter of thanks from the Department and a check for $1.00 for your glasses. At the end of the present war, if your glasses are still in existence; that is, if they have not been sunk by the Japs or the Huns, they will be returned to you with a letter of appreciation.

"But in advance of those letters, may I extend to you not only the Navy's but my own deep appreciation of your patriotism. This institution is the one that is straining a nerve to provide the Navy glasses for all the ships being commissioned, and you can well appreciate that is quite a job. That is why we had to go begging for glasses from all patriotic citizens of the country.

"I hope that your glasses will be the direct cause of spotting some enemy ship, or possibly directing the fire on some enemy ship and sinking it. That would be a lot of satisfaction, wouldn't it."

A member of a visiting British mission was being shown the sights of Boston. Not wishing to rub the Revolution in on our ally, his host merely pointed out of the car window at one towering monument and said: "Bunker Hill."

"Who was Mr. Bunker," inquired his guest, "and why did they name the hill after him?"

The host was still diffident. "That's where General Warren fell," he explained.

"Oh, yes," replied the guest, measuring the shaft with his eye. "Killed him, of course?"

If we wish to be free; if we wish to preserve inviolate those inestimable privileges for which we have been so long contending; if we mean not basely to abondon the noble struggle in which we have been so long engaged, and which we have pledged ourselves never to abandon until the glorious object of our contest shall be obtained—we must fight! New Building Contract May Be Possible

Hope for starting of construction of the new science building rose rapidly yesterday when an Oklahoma City contractor agreed verbally on terms of a contract.

The contract is being drawn but it has not been signed. The bid totaled approximately $130,800 for the basic construction. Wiring, plumbing, and equipment would not be included at this figure.

This contractor, head of a large building firm, expressed belief that he could obtain the srtuctural steel needed in the structure. Architects have designed the building to use a minimum of critical materials. The plans were drawn by M. O. Carder of Amarillo.

The tentative agreement came at the end of two days of conferences. Recently the board of regents' committee which met here had no bids to consider. Most contractors have not found it possible to make a definite bid.

Ground for the structure was broken at the last Homecoming celebration.

Because of the scarcity of materials, furnishing of the structure may have to be done on a piece-meal basis, and even some second-hand equipment may be used for a time. The building will cost about $175,000 completed and furnished. It was authorized by the last session of the Texas Legislature.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Stephenson of Amarillo were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Flesher.

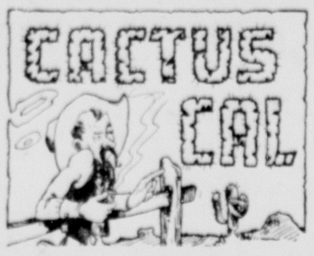
Senior Performers to Enact 'The Take-Off' Tonight

The Eagle's Tale

Vol. 16—No. 20 | Published by The Canyon News for Canyon High School | Thursday, March 12, 1942



More things happen at play practice! The seniors are doing their bit for patriotism (or Miss Clark one) with a Defense Stamp every time they are late on the stage.

Avis Edna Campfield and Jackie Brian are doing their bit, too—but it's not for Uncle Sam. Avis has contributed to the enlightment of Jackie and Lee Roy Moreland by teaching them a few (?) things about home nursing.

Hobby Roll

Charles Owens—Modeling airplanes, collecting match folders and movie stars, hunting any time or anything.

Laura Bell Arb—Collecting scenery post cards, cooking (take note, you hungry males) having fun.

Louise Dietz—Scrapbook including operation stitches, jokes and party favors.

Kenneth Bosley—Carving totem poles and wooden chairs, making model airplanes and collecting stamps.

For once that Harrell girl's looks paid off—Thursday night at the junior tacky party. Everybody finally confessed that Shirley was the beauty (?) of them all.

"Hobo" Railing, covered with a weird little beard, sheared every boy's chance for a glance at the boys' first prize.

Some new versions of "The Star Spangled Banner" have been found since the distribution of the student polls.

The new boy from Panhandle, Jack Drake, says we're the friendliest school he ever saw. I hate to tell this, but he also said that the teachers are too lenient.

Snoopy me snares snacks of sizzling scoops:

Barbara Michael has a ruler that is next to her heart—it has Calvin Sanders' name on it anyway.

Raymond LaCour should slow down, shouldn't he, Betty Brown?

Billy Baker plus Joan Green makes WOW, or maybe woo.

Out of the study hall window, I spied Buddy Foster and Lois Gipson—talking.

Eugene Hardman has quite a harem—well anyway, Johnny Frances Wallen and Velta Speer both have stars in their eyes.

Mr. Sanders must have a time with Evelyn Garrison, Richmond Hales, Johnny Frances Wallen and Harley Hicks in the same room. Wait a minute, Johnny Frances has a harem, too.

Doris Meadows and Royce Boyce are full-speed ahead—fast workers, I mean.

Geraldine Franklin and Leroy Pitts are—O. K.

To tell a student that only 10 weeks of school remain in this semester probably would bring an echo of joy and elaboration of plans and expectations for the summer of near future. Since time reveals that it cannot be repeated, let's make the most of the remaining term. Why not begin this new six weeks to climax an enjoyable memory of this school year.

Although racial prejudices breed in America toward certain countries, today America has a closer relation with allies who have different languages, customs and history. Learn their customs, legends, history and perhaps their languages. The allies cry for cooperation, and the wall of misunderstanding must not be an obstacle.

Probably the most useful organization in our school is the Student-Faculty Congress. It is represented by the students for the students; and the projects it undertakes, while it may not seem so at first, are for the benefit of the students. Let's show the members of that council that we are backing them by taking part in every movement and complimenting them on their good work.

Every day the government cries for speed-up production in the war products. While we cannot answer that cry directly, we can speed up our buying of Defense Stamps as our part. Save a dime each week and have that stamp book filled to exchange for a bond before the school term is over.

Forum Reveals Essay Contest

Theme Is Inter-national Relations and Cooperation

Four years of free college work and a $50 award will crown the efforts of the winner of the essay contest sponsored by the Pan-American Union, on the subject, "What Inter-American Cooperation Means to My Country."

Rules governing the submission of papers or the subject is to be "What Inter-American Cooperation Means to My Country"; the length, not more than 700 words; those eligible, all students of high school grade in the United States; the closing date, not later than April 14, 1942.

Theme Suggestions

Suggestions for students in the writing of this essay are:

1. Let no student fail to compete because of lack of group discussion. If practical, however, these discussion forums will draw many more into participation.
2. Forums or study groups may be arranged under the guidance of the principal or teacher, the student council, the history, Spanish or other classes.
3. Invite competent speakers to appear as part of your forum programs to discuss the question of Inter-American cooperation.
4. Watch your daily papers and listen to the radio for current discussion on the subject in which other groups are participating.
5. Consult the Discussion Guide, a leaflet of background material for students writing papers as a part of the Inter-American Forum. A copy is reserved for each high school requesting it.
6. Exchange news stories, radio scripts, and records of meeting with other high schools in the United States.
7. Exchange data and correspondence with Latin America high schools. Write in Spanish. For this purpose the Forum will furnish names and addresses of a dozen or more schools in Latin American countries if requested to do so.
8. Observe Pan-American Day, April 14, 1942.

Rules Governing Papers

In preparing the papers, use only one side of the paper. Papers may be typewritten or written with pen and ink. Each manuscript must bear, in the upper left-hand corner of the first page, the name, school and home address of the writer. The name of the school principal tlso should be given.

Each contestant should present his or her paper to the school principal or designated teacher on or before Pan-American Day, April 14, 1942 with the request that it be entered in the Inter-American Student Forum Competition.

Scholarship Is Grand Award

The grand award is a four year university scholarship, valued at $6,000, providing tuition, travel and all reasonable expenses at any college or university in the Western Hemisphere. At least two years must be spent in a Latin American university or college.

The state awards are first prize, $50 and a Certificate of Award; second prize, $25 and a Certificate of Award; and third prize, a silver medal.

Newly Organized Clubs Begin Drive "Salvage for Victory"

Grade students are continuing to do their part in the national emergency through the help of teachers and newly organized clubs.

The latest drive, "Salvage for Victory," consists of two representatives from each class to combine the collections of tin, lead, battery cells, heavy paper sacks, brass and chronium, lipstick, powder and rouge containers, ash trays, cotton, burlap, cloth, old tires and tubes, pipe and wire, cork, wrapping paper and cardboard boxes that will be collected by the pupils.

"Old razor blades and tin cans will not be collected because they are too hazardous," commented Mrs. M. S. Bishir.

Seventh Grade Pupils Master Unit on Geometrical Figures

"What is a triangle having all sides unequal?" questioned Miss Grace Clark as the seventh graders studied geometrical constructions last week.

"This short unit is to introduce the students to geometry so that they will know how to use a protractor and compass and will be able to recognize some geometrical figures before they take the full course," confessed Miss Clark. "Although every thing has been reasonably new to the high school babies, they have made some very nice and accurate drawings each day."

Anthem Shows National Spirit

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

"I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands; one nation, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

In order to put Canyon High School on the honor roll of the few schools that have 100 per cent of their student body knowing the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag and the words of the National Anthem, The Eagle's Tale and the Student-Faculty Congress sponsored a student poll of investigation. Every student in Canyon High School was asked to write all of the pledge and song that they knew.

Tabulations were as follows: 198 writing all the pledge, 58 knowing all four verses of "The Star Spangled Banner," 18 having three verses, 25 with two stanzas, 42 writing one verse and 37 people quoting part of one stanza. Twenty-eight of the pupils could not write an entire verse of our national song.

Few Americans Learn Words

"The Student-Faculty Congress is trying to put our song among the leading schools in an effort toward National Defense," asserted Gordon Lynn Dickerson, president of the congress.

Comparatively few Americans have learned to understand the inspiring words indited in "The Star Spangled Banner" by Francis Scott Key, a native American who anxiously searched the dawn for assurrance that the Flag of his country survived the dark night. The words are truly meaningful and one should more than ever learn to appreciate the freedom and individualism they express. In the world crisis of today, we need to know all of the words and know how to sing them impressionistically so that we may express genuine Americanism.

Suggestions Are Given

Whether the national anthem is played or sung, the following suggestions should be used.

1. Whenever possible, people rendering the national anthem should stand and assume a military attitude until a signal is given to be at ease.
2. A moderate tempo should be used. Never swing it or hasten through; however, the anthem should never be played in a slow, sluggish manner.

People Must Inculcate Love

3. In view of present world conditions, if two verses are considered advisable, it is suggested that the first and third are more appropriate according to the radio branch, Bureau of Public Relations, in Washington.

"You and I must inculcate in the heart of every true American an understanding of, and a deep love for, our "Star Spangled Banner."

THE STAR SPANGLED BANNER

Oh, say can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hailed at the twilight's last gleaming,
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, thro' the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watched were so gallantly streaming?
And the rocket's red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof thro' the night that our flag was still there.
Oh, say does that Star-Spangled Banner yet wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave?

On the shore, dimly seen, thro' the mists of the deep,
Where the foe's haughty host in dread silence reposes,
What is that which the breeze, o'er the towering steep,
As it fitfully blows, half conceals, half discloses?
Now it catches the gleam of the morning's first beam,
In full glory reflected now shines on the stream.
'Tis the Star-Spangled Banner, O long may it wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

And where is that band wso so vauntingly swore,
That the havoc of war and battle's confusion
A home and a country should leave us no more?
Their blood has washed out the foul footsteps' pollution.
No refuge can save the hireling and slave
From the terror of flight, or the gloom of the grave:
And the Star-Spangled Banner in triumph doth wave
O'er the land of the free, and the home of the brave!

Oh, thus be it ever when freemen shall stand
Between their loved homes and the war's desolation;
Blest with victory and peace, may the heaven-rescued land
Praise the Power that hath made and preserved us a nation!
Then conquer we must, when our cause it is just,
And this be our motto: "In God is our trust!"
And the Star-Spangled Banner in triumph doth wave,
O'er the land of the free, and the home of the brave!

Principal Receives Occupation Books

Principal J. F. Dickson received three volumes of books on "Dictionary of Occupational Titles," under the subtitles of "Definitions of Titles," "Titles and Codes" and "Entry-Occupational Classification."

Defining 18,000 occupations and giving a description of the types of work, Book I offers information on any type of future occupation.

Book II classifies all types of work under seven groups or divisions: professional and managerial, clerical and sales, service, agricultural, fishery, forestry and kindred, skilled, semiskilled and unskilled occupations.

Book III was issued in a preliminary edition at this time to meet the pressing need for techniques applicable in training for certain occupations.

"Such books as these are particularly useful to students trying to decide upon occupations for the near future," said Mr. Dickson.

Musical Tea Given Pupils by Bright

To become better acquainted with each other, Mrs. Houston Bright's high school music students gathered at her home Thursday afternoon, March 5, for an informal recital and social.

As a main fetature of the afternoon, the girls played the following pieces: "Puck," by Edward Grieg, Carolyn Black; "Giddy Girl," Ibert, by Beulah Hammond; "Aragonaise," by Massanet, Frances Alice Harp; "Waltz in A Flat," Brahms, Jane Campbell.

"Galliwog's Cake Walk," Anita Davis; "Mokrey's Valcik," by Mary Elizabeth Hodges, West Texas High School; "Alt-Wien," Leopold Godowsky, by Martha Jean Dowd; and "Debussy's "General Lavene," by Shirley Harrell. Betty Brown and Mary Alice Bellah attended the social also.

While the guests visited among other, Anita Davis played such numbers as "Shepherd Serenade," "Elmer's Tune," and "Louisiana Lullaby," after which gingerbread, cream and tea were served buffet style.

Student-Faculty Congress Is Sponsor of Book Check-up

Sponsored by the Student-Faculty Congress, special class meetings were held Thursday for all the classes.

Each pupil carried all his books to his sponsor's room where they were checked for numbers on the bookcards and for wear and tear.

This project was for the benefit of the students in that it will save them money in paying for lost books and in vacation time by clearing their book cards now as a preliminary checkup. The money saved by checking the books now is to be used for Defense Stamps and Bonds for the school.

Poetry Deadline Is Set for March 28

To the students, the National High School Poetry Association announces March 28 as the closing date for the submission of manuscripts for the annual Anthology of High School Poetry.

Each student may submit as many poems as he wishes; but each effort must be typed or written on a separate sheet and must bear the name of the author, the high school attended and the home address of the student.

The purpose is to bring to the public through the Anthology the work of students who show promise and to encourage the writing of poetry by youth.

Schools in the Panhandle that have cooperated in the past to make the Anthologies a success are Amarillo, Childress, Lubbock, Matador and Pampa.

For further instructions, see Mrs. Carl T. York, English instructor.

Seven New Students Enter Classes of Canyon Schools

With the addition of seven new students, Canyon Public School increased its enrollment in the past week while five pupils withdrew.

Billy Jo Jackson, Amarillo; Bob Hogge, Happy; Hubert and Jack Drake, Panhandle, have entered the high school while Carlos Jackson and Fritzi Hogge joined the grade school forces.

Grade pupils Jimmie Jay, Robert and Carol Jackson have journeyey to White Deer. Jackie Kirk and Robert Laughery also withdrew.

Americanism Motive Will Be Theme for Special Edition

Trying to avoid future rush, the journalism class has begun work on their special edition to be published May 7.

"If nothing is changed, we shall carry out an Americanism theme in the advertisements as well as the stories this year," asserted Dan Cabe, editor.

Special assignments are being made daily, and the advertising salesmen will be appointed soon.

Why Do Pencil Leads Break in Library?

Do the 300 young angels who come to Canyon High each day sit quietly and obediently in study hall to do all their homework? Well, one would hardly think so.

Little Mary Chatterbox just can't seem to resist the temptation to talk to the girl seated next to her; and she claims that during study hall "she just doesn't seem to be able to study, and magazines are much more interesting. Anyway she can study later."

Now Johnny Popup is a serious case! His pencil points are ever breaking or it seems he gathers waste paper to carry to the basket; however, just any excuse to get up and walk around the room will do. When Johnny tries to concentrate on his work, the open window attracts his attention to the beautiful out-of-doors; then his day-dreaming starts in.

Considering the double seating arrangement, lack of students' ability to concentrate, combined library and study hall, and the mischievlousness of the number of students in the room, Miss Geraldine Pratt, librarian, really has numerous things to think about in keeping a well-organized library and study hall.

However, all this really falls in "just a day's work."

American History Class Loses West Texas Practice Teacher

Completing a unit on the industrialization of the United States, the American history class is reviewing for a test under the direction of Olin Huff. Roy Cheatham of West Texas State College, who started this unit, could not continue it because of a change in program.

After finishing this unit, the class will start a unit on the present economic problems of the South. This unit is supposed to be a full-time course.

As 12 o'clock rolled around Friday, all the class members rushed to their home rooms for the usual short business meetings and then the long awaited "gab sessions."

Canyon FFA Wins Honors at Show

Winning four places at the Fat Stock Show in Amarillo Monday, Charles SoRelle brought home the first honors for the Future Farmers Chapter.

With Bobby Black's help, Charles showed a litter which placed second, a pen of three which placed fourth, six heavy barrows, a Duroc Jersey and the largest class of the show which placed fourth and fifth.

Billy Thurman's 4-H Club calf passed through the sifting committee Monday, thus gaining one step toward a possible award.

The training school and Canyon High School chapters have an impressive total of $500 for 21 pigs, all of which goes into their treasuries. Out of a total of 52 pigs which they had earlier in the year, only three pigs passed into pig heaven while their remaining 25 bretheren still remain to be sold within 30 days.

In the farm engineering shop period, Billy Baker has finished a hog feeder and a poultry feeder; Earl Byrd completed two large hog houses; C. L. Roberts and James Wright built a self-feeder for cattle; Billy Brown and Raymond Stuart constructed a hog feeder; and Louis Hales, Virgil Walton and Marvin May overhauled a gasoline engine.

US Navy Offers V-1 Classification

Boys between the ages of 17-19 years old, who are seeking a naval career, but who wish to acquire two years of college education, may now enlist in the United States Navy with the classification of V-1.

Class V-1 is a special classification of prospective Aviation Cadets or Midshipmen United States Naval Reserve, who wish to further their education before being called into active duty.

The purpose of this new classification set by the Navy is to enable first and second year college men to enlist in the Navy and then have time to qualify for either a V-5 or V-7 classification upon furthering their education.

Requirements for boys who wish a naval career are that they be enrolled as a freshman or a sophomore in an accredited college or university and maintain passing grades. They must also meet physical requirements for Ensigns in the United States Naval Reserve.

For further information concerning this opportunity, consult Principal J. F. Dickerson or the nearest naval recruiting officer.

Climax of FHT Year Will Be Annual Convention at Dallas

Climaxing a year of patriotic service, the Future Homemakers of Texas will hold their annual rally April 17-18 at Dallas, Texas.

Formerly, the rally has been a large convention with several delegates from each school; but because of the national crisis, the delegation will be decreased. Only one delegate from each school and the state and area officers will attend this year.

Headquarters for the meeting will be in the Adolphus and Baker Hotels.

Hold your hat for "The Take-off!" Here they come stopping off in the High School Auditorium this evening at 8:30 o'clock, war time! It really isn't an airplane but 11 members of the Senior Class presenting J. Dan Fairman's "Take Off."

Practice began for this production about five weeks ago under the direction of Miss Grace Clark, sponsor of the class.

Alfred Lawson Heads Family

At the head of the Lawson family is Alfred, who, a bit scheming at times, is an honest factory worker whose department has been wiped out.

Louella Lawson is the typical American mother whose only thought is that of her offspring and her husband's position.

Phil Is Lazy Type

Phil Lawson, eighteen and very typical of boys that age seems to be more interested in boats and $25,000 than anything else.

Fourteen and very tom-boyish is Marjorie, whose only pet hate is oatmeal and mush; and incidentally, she lets it be known.

Foster Has Love Affair

Twenty, sensitive and very interested in her heart-throb, Ralph Foster, is Jean Lawson, who is disgusted with all little brothers and sisters.

Short and fat, with $25,000 is Uncle Ed from Australia, whose surprise visit with his secretary and ex-ward, Nelva Summers, affords many embarrassing exsiting moments for the Lawson family.

Hobo Is Educated Type

An unknown hobo, who becomes a star boarder for a day is Julius C. Chugwater, whose blundering mistakes only add more to the problem.

Aunt Martha upsets the scheme when she makes a surprise visit.

Sloan Gossips

Mrs. Sloan, the noisy neighbor, who just must see and hear everything that goes on, presents many laughs and problems.

The whole class helped in the selection of the play and everyone had a chance to be in it.

Visitors Criticize

Last week, Miss Helen Whiteside, Miss Ada V. Clark, Miss Dorinda E. Bond, and Mrs. Guy B. Tabor and others gave criticisms of each character and scene so that weaknesses might be corrected before the final curtain.

Clark Directs

"Full credit should be given to the following persons for the countless hours they have given toward the production," said Miss Grace Clark, sponsor: "Al Hunter and Lee Roy Moreland, stage managers; Fern Zimmer and Wilma Jean Dickerson, prompters."

Presentation of this comedy is one of the money-making campaigns that will finance the gift to the school and the trip to Carlsbad.

Admission will be 15 and 30 cents, tax included.

War Hero Is From Texas A. & M.

"Did you know that General MacArthur graduated from Texas A. & M.?" asked a very interested student, since Olin Huff's American History class has been studying about agricultural schools.

After Mr. Huff confessed that he did not know that, Louis Hinders, another very enthusiastic student, offered, "Well, he's surely reaping Jap heads! Did he learn that in A. & M.?"

Commercial Classes Receive Educational Records on Unit

Some records, "Applying for a Secretarial Position," "A Secretary Receives Callers" and "The Secretary at the Telephone" have been received by the Canyon High commercial department. They will be heard by the shorthand and typing classes. Helpers in the office also will listen to these records to obtain instructions about receiving visitors and telephone calls.

"I think the records are wonderful and well worth the money," said Mr. Huff, instructor of the commercial department.

Harold Barnett, band director, played with the Amarillo Philharmonic Orchestra, under the direction of Robert Louis Barron, Thursday evening, when the guest soloist was Cornelius Van Vliet, world famous celloist.

Religion of Japan Discussed Rotary Lunch Tuesday

Dr. Roy L. Johnson talked on the religion of Japan at the Rotary luncheon Tuesday. His talk was of such great interest that it is printed in full below.

The Buffalo basketball squad was entertained by the club. Captain Frank Stockman introduced each member of the club. Coach Al Baggett highly praised the boys of his squad and expressed the appreciation of all members for the fine support given by the people of Canyon. The team leaves Saturday morning for New York City where the boys hope to win in the national tournament.

Visitors were: Rev. Oran W. Carter, Childress; Rev. H. W. Hanks, Brownfield; Rev. H. L. Hurston, Spur; Mr. and Mrs. Allen Early, Allen Early, Jr., John McCarty, A. A. Meredith, all of Amarillo; Mrs. T. V. Reeves, Canyon.

Japan's religious philosophy largely accounts for her political and military conduct.

"The ancient religion of the people of Japan is Shinto ('The way of the gods') which represents the distinctive religious genius of Japan from the very beginnings of its history. "Shinto is unique among the religions of the world for the contribution which it has made to the political theory and the national stability of its own adherents. According to its sacred scriptures, the islands of Japan were the first divine creation, and the first Mikado was a literal descendent to earth from the Sun-goddess in heaven. The belief in the divine origin of the land and government of Japan and in the perpetual duration of the monarchy has been steadfastly fostered in the mind of Japan by its national religion. The Constitution, which was formulated in 1889 in order to bring Japan into line with the methods of other nations of the world, starts with a reaffirmation of religious faith; the preamble declares that the Mikado sits upon 'the throne of a lineal succession unbroken for ages eternal. Historically, Shinto has furnished the vital religious basis for the oldest reigning dynasty in the world." (The World's Living Religions, Hume. Pages 146-147.)

According to Encyclopedia Brittanica, "Shinto makes no appeal to reason or emotion; has no moral code, its prayers and sacrifices aim at obtaining temporal posterity and indicate no desire for moral or spiritual blessings." "Worship takes the form of offerings and the recital of rituals." These rituals always ask for some material or earthly blessings; "but they contain no reference to a future state of reward or punishment or to assistance in the path of virtue."

Shinto dates theoretically from the beginning of the Japanese people, 660 B. C., and was at first a crude form of nature-worship. Due to lack of a written language these myths and rituals were transmitted by oral tradition until about a thousand years ago a sacred literature was produced under order of the emperor. Although Buddhism was brought in from China in the seventh century, Shinto ideas were still predominant in the minds of the masses and even though most of the Shinto shrines were taken over by Buddhist priests, these Shinto ideas have still persisted even while wearing the garb of Buddhism. Today there are more than forty-six million Buddhists and only about sixteen million Shintoists, but Shinto is far more powerful as an instrument for moulding national loyalty and policy of state.

Schaff-Herzog Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge says "Shinto combines nature worship, hero worship, and reverence for ancestors. At times its most distinguishing characteristic has been reverence for the imperial family, and the present tendency is to emphasize this feature."

Hastings' Encyclopedia of Religion and Ethics says: "When we compare Shinto with the great religions of the world, it must be deemed perhaps the most rudimentary cult of which we have an adequate written record. It has not advanced beyond a crude polytheism; its personifications are vague and feeble; it has scarcely anything in the shape of a moral code; it practically does not recognize a future state, and generally gives little evidence of deep thought or earnest devotion." "It is in the main a worship of nature." "It has no Supreme Diety," but highest honor is paid the sun-goddess because of the benefits of sunlight.

"The chief religious ideas embodied in the myths of Japan are, firstly, the conception of various parts and aspects of the material universe as sentient beings, or presided over by sentient beings; and secondly, the doctrine that reverence and obedience are due to the wise soverign, whose rule confers on his people blessings comparable to the sun's warmth and light."

Theoretical "freedom of religion" has been the legal policy of Japan for more than half a century, but to all practical effects this principle has been nullified by making Shinto a required patriotic exercise. For many years a movement among certain people has favored pure Shinto in Japan as distinct from Chinese Confucianism and Buddhism. This movement has had a most important political bearing because it is intensely Japanese and anti-Chinese. In exalting everything that was purely Japanese it had to fall back on ancient lore which dealt with the divine descent of the imperial house. The secular and the sacred are linked together in Japan. The word for "government" is a form of the word for "religious festival." "The chief priest of Shinto is the Mikado himself." He may take a leading part, but usually delegates his religious functions to others. There is no escape from the effect of the more than 200,000 Shinto shrines in Japan.

In one of the sacred books of Shinto, the claim is made that the sun-goddess said to the first emperor, her grandson: "My children, in their capacitiy of dieties, shall rule it." The emperor then said in this same book: "For this reason, this country since heaven and earth began has been a monarchy. The duty has therefore devolved on Us, in Our capacity as Celestial Divinity, to regulate and settle it." He further says: 'This is the mandate of the emperor of Japan, who rules the word of God incarnate."

The constitution adopted more than fifty years ago says: "The Empire of Japan shall be ruled over and governed by a line of Emperors unbroken for ages eternal." "The Emperor is sacred and inviolable."

In the famous Imperial Rescript on Education, issued in 1890, there is a demand for unquestioned devotion to the Imperial Throne, which is declared to be "infallible for all ages."

In the writings of one of the most productive scholars of Shinto history, in the early part of the nineteenth century, he says: "The two fundamental doctrines are: that Japan is the country of the gods, and her inhabitants are the descendants of the gods. Between the Japanese people . . . and other nations of the world there is a difference of kind, rather than of degree." "The Mikado is the true Son of Heaven, who is entitled to reign over the four seas and the ten-thousand countries." "From the fact of the divine descent of the Japanese people proceeds their immeasurable superiority to the natives of other countries in courage and intelligence." (The World's Living Religions, Hume—page 167.)

A professor of the Imperial University of Tokyo some years ago promoted a movement "to expand Shinto into a great, all-inclusive world-religion, embracing within itself Buddhism, Confucianism, the thirteen sects of Shinto, Christianity, Taoism, and Mohammedanism. Shinto is the faith at the basis of all religions. It is the religion of religions."

The purpose of the more recent advocates of Shintoism seems to be more political than religious. Schaff-Herzog Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge says: "The tendency of recent years has been to consider Shinto itself a system for fostering patriotism and loyalty. This makes it possible, without violation of the freedom of conscience guaranteed by the national constitution, to claim that every Japanese ought to support it and take part in its ceremonies."

It can be readily seen that such a religio-political system can be used to great advantage by unscrupulous and fanatical leaders who through their governmental offices can gain control of the policies of government. Within the last ten years the ruling class of Japan headed chiefly by the army and navy leaders, has set up an Imperial Council with an Imperial Headquarters, which acts and speaks for the Emperor and through the skillful use of the principles of Shinto loyalty to the divine emperor has wrested the reigns of government from the direct representatives of the people. The underlying philosophy of Shintoism helps account for the Japanese belief that personal cowardice is the most despicable of vices, that loyalty to the throne and the country is the supreme virtue, and that racial pride and patriotic fervor should be upheld with fanatical devotion, even to the point of suicide if one fails to do so.

BIBLICAL WORLD of July 1919, explaining the fundamental philosophy of Shintoism, said: "The Japanese are the chosen people of God, and the presence of God is especially manifested in the Emperor of Japan. Shinto is logically destined to be the universal religion and the saving culture of mankind. The duty of the Japanese people and of the Emperor of Japan is to spread that religion and culture, until the Emperor of Japan shall become the supreme temporal and spiritual ruler of the world. This conquest of the world is to be made by peaceful means; but it seems reasonable that if peaceful means fail, the power of might may be tried."

The events of 1941 and 1942 indicate that might is being tried!

Lions Club Hears Black Out and Air Raid Program

Conrad W. Freed, co-air raid warden of Canyon, spoke to the Lions Club Thursday at noon, explaining the air raid and black out precautions for Canyon.

He urged that every vicinity, home, and business site execute all air raid precautions and recognize the air raid alarm. In order to prevent the shattering of glass and destruction from other flying missles, window shutters should be closed and all exposures to the light taped up if possible.

Many schools are already observing air raid alarms, said Dr. Freed. All the children are asked to crawl under their desks against the floor in order that the building may appear vacant.

The speaker stated that it is impossible to execute a complete black out from one central switch because of electric refrigerators and hospital units. But the government has requested that every precaution be made so as to shut off all light. It is highly improbable that this town will ever be bombed, but it is possible that this town could serve as a guide post in the directing of bombers toward some obpective, such as the helium plant of Amarillo or the Borger oil fields. The telephone company is already observing a black out all over the country.

Milton (Chick) Neilson, Tom Langston, and W. F. Nix were reinstated as members of the Lions Club, and Glen McGahey was presented as a new member.

W. C. Black was a guest at the meeting.

Social Security Shows How Ages Are Determined

Many inquiries have been received recently in regard to the procedure which should be followed by individuals in establishing their proof of age. These individuals inquired for the purpose of securing such information for ready reference when the time comes for them to file claim for Federal old-age and survivors insurance benefits, according to Dewey Reed, manager of the Amarillo office of the Social Security Board.

"While it is a fact that one year, one month, or even one day may make a difference in one's old-age benefits, the task of establishing a birth record is not as difficult as many people believe," Mr. Reed stated.

It was further emphasized that the Social Security Board must have in its possession proof of date of birth before a claim may be accepted for old-age and survivors insurance. Following are some of the proofs acceptable to the Social Security Board:

(1) A copy of the public record of birth or a statement as to the date of birth shown by such record, duly certified; or

(2) A copy of a church record of infant baptism or a statement as to the date of birth shown by such record, duly certified; or

(3) A written notification from the Bureau of the Census or other public agency that a described record of birth has been established at a public registry of vital statistics.

If none of the evidence described in items (1), (2), or (3) is obtainable, the reason therefore should be stated and the applicant may submit:

(4) A statement of the physician or midwife or other individual who attended at the time of the birth of such applicant; or

(5) A certification, upon the approved form, that there exists a Bible or other family record showing the age of the applicant or of such other individual, as stated on such form; or if such proof cannot be obtained,

(6) Other evidence of probative value.

If the applicant for benefits is residing in the United States, but was born in another country, and none of the evidence described in items (1), (2), or (3) is available in the United States, the applicant may submit an immigration or naturalization record, or other evidence of probative value, which shows the date and place of birth.

Meeting of Youth Council Is Held Friday Afternoon

The second meeting of the Youth Council was held in Thompson Club room Friday, March 7. Miss Elva Fronabarger, city chairman of Junior Red Cross, was the guest speaker.

The Youth Council is made up of a representative from each of the youth organizations in Canyon. The Canyon chapter of F. H. T. took the lead in organizing the council of which Miss Rose Parsley, Miss Helen White Moore and Mrs. Tom Knighton are sponsors.

Other guests at the Friday meeting were Miss Gladys Armstrong, area supervisor of homemaking education and J. F. Dickson, principal of the Canyon High School.

The purpose of the Youth Council is to better train youth in democratic principles and its operation. Youth Councils in every public school and every community offer means of mobilizing of youth effort in a unified plan for community and national service. These councils prepare for democratic living in a world of war or at peace.

Youth Council leaders will cooperate with adult groups such as Red Cross, Coordinating Council and Civilian Defense Council and other local organizations.

The schools offer many facilities which may be utilized by the Youth Council in planning activities for both the youth and the entire community, such as: The gymnasium and auditorium converted into a recreation room for community entertainments as games, plays, skits, talks or panel discussions; the music department for promotion of community sings, choruses and band and orchestra entertainments; the playground could meet the recreational needs of the community youth after school.

These are only a few suggestions in which the Youth Council can function in aiding the school and community in time of distress, and the youth are sure to carry on if given an opportunity under proper sponsorship.

My garden, with its silence and the pulses of fragrance that come and go on the air undulations, affects me like sweet music. Care stops at the gates, and gazes at me wistfully through the bars. Among my flowers and trees, Nature takes me into her own hands, and I breathe freely as the first man.—Alexander Smith.

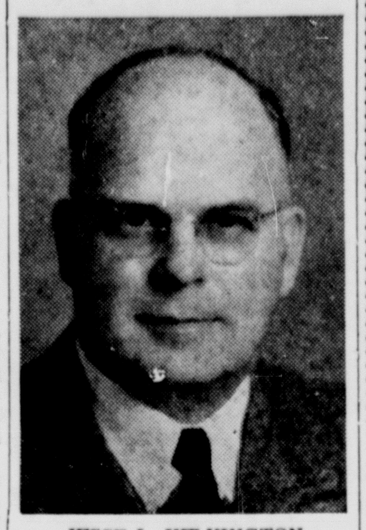
Baptists To Start Revival Meeting



JESSE L. YELVINGTON
State Evangelist

The First Baptist Church of Canyon will have its spring revival April 12-26. Evangelist Jesse L. Yelvington of San Antonio will do the preaching. Music will be under direction of Claude W. White, assistant pastor of the church.

The preacher is a former pastor of Baptist Temple in San Antonio and for four years has been an evangelist of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, during which time he has held meetings in all parts of Texas and beyond. He is the author of a book entitled "That the World May Believe" and this exposition of the high-priestly prayer of Jesus has won favorable comment by reviewers both in this country and in England. He is a Bible preacher of ability and the pastor, Dr. Roy L. Johnson, urges friends of Randall county to hear him during his fifteen days in Canyon, April 12-26.

Girl Scouts Plan Family Night

Plans for a Girl Scout Family Night on Tuesday night, March 17, were made at meetings this week. The social will be in the form of a covered dish supper and will have a three-fold purpose.

The Scout movement in the United States began March 12, 1912; thus the gathering will celebrate the birthday of scouting. At the same time there will be a Court of Awards. The Girl Scout troops have been working on First Aid for the past two months, and badges will be given 11 scouts who passed the test. Five girls will receive their second class badges; seven, their tenderfoot pins, and two, their cyclist badge.

Special awards will be presented winners of the cookie sale contest that has just closed.

The program will include special dances by Troops I and II, a number by the Brownies, and group singing.

The organizations exceeded their goal in the cookie sale drive. Cookies will be delivered Friday and Saturday, 13 and 14.

Girl Scouts, Brownies, and their families are invited to bring a covered dish and attend family night at the Methodist Church at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening.

Be courteous to all, but intimate with few; and let those few be well tried before you give them your confidence. True friendship is a plant of slow growth, and must undergo and withstand the shocks of adversity before it is entitled to the appellation. Let your heart feel for the affections and distresses of every one, and let your hand give in proportion to your purse; remembering always the estimation of the widow's mite, that it is not every one that asketh that deserveth charity; all, however, are worthy of the inquiry, or the deserving may suffer.—George Washington.

He prayeth well who loveth well,
Both man and bird and beast;
He prayeth best who loveth best
All things both great and small.
—Coleridge.
